Membership Meetings Resume

Tuesday, September 17

Warren Power, Vice President

With the passing of summer, we resume our monthly membership meetings. Come and swap summer bicycle stories with other members of the Quad Cities Bicycle Club at our first fall membership meeting on Tuesday, 17 September at 7:00 pm. The meeting will be held in the auditorium at Rivermont Collegiate, (formerly St. Katherines's/St. Mark's), 1821 Sunset Drive, Bettendorf, IA.

Did you know there is another bicycle club in the Quad Cities? Well there is and it's call FORC (pronounced "Fork"). While the QCBC focuses mainly on touring and on Road Riding, FORC concentrates on and promotes off road riding. Rick Wren and Dean Mayne, QCBC members as well as organizers and leaders within FORC will be presenting information about what FORC has to offer. So come and listen. You might find there are some opportunities for different riding experiences close to the Quad Cities that you didn't know existed.

UMCA 24-Hour Time Trail Championships

Saturday, September 21

Dave Holmes, Event Director

The 12th running of the UMCA 24 Hour Time Trail Championships will be run on September 21st, 2002. The place will be Eldridge, Iowa. Again in 2002 we will offer 6, 12 and 24-hour races.

New for this year, the 6 and 12-hour races will begin before the 24-hour race. At 6:30am, the 6 and 12-hour races will start. Drafting is allowed in these races. A 19-mile loop is run for the entire race. Registration will be from 5:30am to 6am, Saturday morning, for all races. All activities will be run from the US Post Office in Eldridge.

If you want to try for 24 hours on a bike, this race is non-drafting. 2 and 4 person teams may ride also. The first rider will take off from the Post Office at 6:40am, every minute another rider will take off on the 133-mile day loop, followed by the 19-mile loop.

There will be a check in and registration on Friday September 20th, at the Road Way Inn in Eldridge from 5 – 7pm.

If you would like to help with this event, please call Dave at (563) 285-6195 in the evenings or email him at: umca24hrttchamp@aol.com

From the Headset
Kathy Storm

It has been a good summer for new and old faces on QCBC rides. We have experienced an increase in membership numbers these past 6 months but more importantly, participation in many of our club rides is up. And we are seeing an uptick in the number of children who are coming on rides with their parents.

The Wednesday rides continue to be popular. Often there are 15+ riders who show up for the start of the ride. The weekend Leisure and MidPaced rides are seeing a nice steady group of 8 – 20 rides. The Fast Paced rides are in need of some more participants though. If you like to ride 16+ MPH for a number of miles, I hope you will consider coming out on a ride with this group. I know our club has a good 30+ riders here locally in the QC Area who comfortably ride at these speeds. Why not come out on a club ride and join others who enjoy riding at a faster clip.

The Tuesday and Thursday night rides still continue to struggle overall. We have been experimenting around with different staging locations hoping to put some new life back into these rides. We may have come up with a solution for the Tuesday night rides. During the month of August, we have been meeting at the Happy Joe's in Eldridge (5:30PM). Last Tuesday, we had 13 riders participate in a great 29 mile MidPaced ride. Afterwards, 9 of us ate pizza. I think "food" may have been a major draw for many of us.

In September, the Thursday night rides (5:30PM) will start from Brother's Restaurant in Rapids City, IL. With the daylight hours starting to diminish, we will probably ride 25 miles. Afterwards, there is an "All You Can Eat Chicken Dinner" special for $5.95.

The 2001 QCBC jersey design continues to be popular this summer. Many are being worn on various club rides. We now have just 15 left in stock. Call me if you are interested in purchasing one of the remaining pieces: Men's Club Cut (medium), Women's Race Cut (medium and large) and Wind Vests (large, 2XL and 3XL)

I would like to thank the following QCBC members for helping sell some of these remaining jerseys at the RAGBRAI packet pick up and bus loading on Friday, July 19th: Bill and Jan Trefz-Allen, Warren Power, Vivian Norton, Jim Merritt and Lynne Groskurth.

This newsletter contains registration forms for some upcoming fall activities and our membership application. These are also available online on our website if you would prefer to leave your newsletter intact.

I need to thank my husband, Bill Storm, for helping proof read this issue of Pedalwheeling along with Dave Thompson and Mike Middlemeiss. I appreciate your attention to detail.

Just What the Doctor Ordered
Door County – Pedal Across Wisconsin
June 29 and 30, 2002
Kevin Wohlford

My wife, Sandy, and I arrived in heaven. No, wait! It was Wisconsin. Door County to be exact. I picked up our packet of stuff for the ride, and this witty old guy named Jerry Goldman asks me where I'm from. Jerry, by the way, is the one and only board member, route marker and vote caster of Pedal Across Wisconsin, Inc. To his devout clients, he is affectionately known as Dr. J. Pedal, Cyclogist.

"I'm in the Quad Cities Bicycle Club," I said.

Jerry gave me a surprised look and asked, "So how did you find out about this ride?"

Then the surprised look came to my face. "Well, I assumed that everyone in QCBC got the same flyer you sent me. Didn't you send one to each of us?"

Jerry responded, "I didn't use any mailing lists."

I said, "Well, I'm here aren't I?" The puzzling thing is that somehow I got the Pedal Across Wisconsin Mailer, a flyer listing five or six tours in Wisconsin. Maybe all of the QCBC members got it too. And if you did, then the next puzzling thing is, why weren't more QCBC members attracted to this heavenly two-day ride?

The Door County ride began at a small high school in what looks like a typical tiny town in Iowa. There is even corn to look at, (although not as healthy looking as ours) but then things changed. As we approached the shores of the great lake, our surroundings transformed magically into a coastal region. Between tall pines you can see sandy wave-washed shores and blue waters that stretch out to the horizon.

As we pedaled the tandem north, the scenery transformed again. It was a mountain region now, with a tree-studded ridge off to our right and rocky cliffs casting cool shadows across the road.

As we pedaled into Ephraim, it transformed again. This time I could swear that I was in a quaint New England fishing village. We enjoyed lunch at an open air cafe (Wilson's) and watched seagulls, playing over the masts of sailboats moored in the bay.

A few miles down the road we crossed a land bridge that divides Kangaroo Lake and for the first time, I felt like we were actually in Wisconsin. But each time I caught a view of Lake Michigan, that feeling like we were on the edge of the world bloomed up and took my breath away.

Ice cream is a big deal in Door County. So is cherry wine. So are Friday night fish boils. When you go there next year, try them all.

Our route contained no long, steep hills. Vehicular traffic was light to sparse, and in no particular hurry. Sturdy forests along most of the route thwart the wind from making any kind of a running start. The 25, 50 or 75 mile Saturday and the 40-mile Sunday could easily have been cut short by looping back to the starting point. All these things combined make this the perfect ride for new cyclists wanting to try out a multiple day tour for the first time. Come to think of it, advanced cyclists would love this ride too. We sure did.

For additional information on this ride and others offered by Pedal Across Wisconsin, contact Jerry Goldman (847) 695-7964 or drjpedal@webtv.net.

Night Riding
Charlie Sattler

As the days are getting shorter I strongly encourage adding some kind of lights to your bike. A blinking light on the back of your bike will make you more visible if you are caught out after dark. If you want to ride after dark there are a lot of advantages:

1. It is cool and quiet
2. Less traffic

3. Less wind

4. Gives you more riding time

There are many quality light systems on the market. I personally ride to work in the dark and I have had no major problems with traffic or breakdowns. In this modern world of cell phones help is only a call away. My commute is twelve and one-half miles each way. I try to ride it, as much weather will allow. So please give it some thought we even have club rides after dark.

Blaze The Trail On A Brand New, Grand Ride Chuck Oestreich, Advocacy Chairman

A new seven-day bicycle tour is coming to America. It's set to include the Great River Trail north of the Quad Cities, and should be a real plus for advocacy. That's because it will be put on by the League of Illinois Bicyclists (LIB), in cooperation with the Illinois Department of Natural Resources (IDNR).

The ride will boost bicycling as a health and fitness incentive to ride the trails and roads of northern Illinois - and to visit and experience some very unique natural resources - Illinois State Parks.

Much of the route will be on the Grand Illinois Trail and riders will camp in Illinois State Parks along the way (with motel opportunities close to every one of the overnight sites.)

The ride is called the Grand Illinois Trail And Parks ride, or GITAP. And although the ride is still in the planning stage, both the LIB and the IDNR have agreed that it will take place next year from Sunday, June 15 through Saturday, June 21. So after getting in shape with TOMRV the previous weekend, you'll be set for a relatively leisurely week exploring the grand concept of the Grand Illinois Trail.

This will be the first ride sponsored cooperatively by the LIB and The IDNR; consequently ridership will be kept within limits. If you're interested at this early date, mail or call me and your name will be put in our reserved file. You will be sent a registration brochure as soon as it is printed.

As of now, these are the features of this unique trail and parks ride:

- A seven day, six nights, ride of about 60-70 miles a day.
- Starting on Sunday, June 15, 2003, and ending on Saturday, June 21.
- The route follows the Grand Illinois Trail for much of its length.
- Overnight camping in Illinois' State Parks, for the most part.
- Each overnight is also close to a town with motel accommodations.
- Breakfasts and dinners provided - lunch on your own.
- Evening meetings sometimes with entertainment and discussion.
- The ride starts close to Chicago, in the western suburbs.
- The route includes the following overnights:
  - Starved Rock State Park
  - Geneseo
  - Morrison/Rockwood S. P.
  - White Pines S. P.
  - Rock Cut S. P.
  - Chain O' Lakes S. P.

We would love to have you blaze the trail on this brand new, grand new ride.

Mid-Paced Ride Report New Liberty Turnaround August 3, 2002 Jim Merritt

What a great day for a ride! 18 QCBC members were greeted with one of the nicest days we have had this summer. With the temperatures in the upper 60's, low humidity, sunny skies and light breezes, one could not ask for a better day for a ride. We departed North Scott High School and headed west out of town and began the start of our journey. We traveled the gentle rolling hills of rural Scott County towards the small town of Donahue.

We regrouped once there, as we split ranks on the way north. This also provided a rest period for those in need. Once reorganized, we proceeded on to the next destination, Dixon, our only food stop on the route. The riders joining us had a mix of the different rides available to us ranging from the traditional road bike to tandems and recumbents. (cont. on page 8)

New Champions Crowned At 3rd Annual QCBC Time Trial Championships
Sunday July 28, 2002 - Barstow Illinois 20 kilometers
Dave Thompson, Race Director

Despite wind and extreme heat index, the 3rd annual QCBC Time Trial Championships came off without a hitch. 55 enthusiastic racers hit the flat pavement of Barstow Road on Sunday, July 28 for a 20 kilometer out and back test.

From age 13 to 75, from elite triathlete to cyclotourist to hard core racer, we had an interesting mix of riders. 2 new QCBC Member champions were crowned in the men's and women's race. Elite masters duathlete and triathlete, John Grice of Kewanee Illinois, blazed to the 2nd best time of the day overall. His 27:49 showed why he is the man to beat in local multisport races.

On the ladies side, 27 year old Davenport Iowa resident, Trish Arbuckle won the QCBC crown easily with a 33:11 time. She actually was 3rd overall among the women. Elite triathlete and former bike racer, Amy Castro continues her comeback after a break to have 2 children, by crushing the women's field.

Her 31:11 time broke the course record by 51 seconds.

Elite masters age group duathlete Tonya Armstrong was 2nd overall. The men's winner took his 3rd straight overall title. Aaron Inch of St. Louis, a Cat. 2 racer blistered his own course record with a 27:04 time. Finishing 3rd was 52 year old ABR racer, David Groetzinger of Dubuque.

I want to thank my volunteers for their efforts on a tough morning. Especially Mike VanDaele, my right hand man who with his help allowed me to race. Thanks to Bill Wiebel and Mike Detsch who helped me out in a pinch with double duty:

registration and start line. Also thanks to Tara Osbourne, Dale Manley, Nate Thompson, Melinda

Thompson and of course Chief Larry Scott, Dale Frels and the rest of the Barstow Fire Dept. Without them we would have no race. (Race Results on page 7)

This made for an interesting observation of the different riding styles and conversation at the rest stops. Our next leg of our journey took us to the namesake of our ride, "New Liberty" for our turnaround back towards Eldridge. Some ladies who appeared to be (con't on page 8) setting up for a festivity sometime later that day greeted us at the city park. Carrying in food they asked if their food was going to be safe while we were there? Being the hungry cyclists that we were, we had to reassure them of course that it would not be. Jerry Kruse had of course already scoped out the refrigerator.

After our last stop it was on to the end of our ride, passing through Plainview and Maysville. While some who rode out to Eldridge continued on into Davenport as we turned off hwy 130 onto Y52, the rest proceeded north to F45 and Eldridge. The last stop of the day was on to Lancers Bar and Grill for lunch. The establishment who welcomed our funny dressed party warmly greeted us. A good time was had by all who joined us for lunch.

Those who participated in the journey were; Jeff Cosad, Barb Donald, Tim Dugan, Bob & Jan Fitzgerald, Keith Holst, Rodger Horst, Jerry Kruse, Dave Lefever, Jim Merritt, Dick Morrill, Darlene Moritz, Bob Mulligan, Doug Stevens, Bill & Kathy Storm, Susan Wolf and Dennis (friend of Bob Fitzgerald) (unfortunately I do not remember his last name).

Four Days Of Craze
At The Quad Cities Criterium
Robbie Ventura, Race Participant

I've done the Quad Cities race series for about 20 years now. I know exactly how long it takes to get there, where the cops hide out and all the decent food places on 1-88. This year, I took a video camera with me and made a little documentary. My teammate Kenny Labbe and I hauled down there in record time, and I interviewed both of us on the way down. Drivers were looking at me like I was crazy. Back to the events.

DAY ONE - Burlington Road Race.

80 miles at 30-plus miles an hour with no real hills to break things up. A breakaway of 15 riders got away! with 40 miles to go. I was fortunate enough to make the move with about 10 other pros. I was outmanned and outgunned and it was not pretty. I placed 10th out of 15 and was not a happy camper.

DAY TWO - Snake Alley.

This course is simply wicked. It goes up a cobbled horse path and comes down a pretty sketchy decent. I felt great the first half, but with six laps to go, my chain wound up in my frame. I shifted down to the small ring as I approached the cobbled climb. I overshifted a bit and I threw the chain off my front ring on the inside. I tried desperately to ride it back on the chain ring but eventually had to stop and yank it out of the frame. This little mishap took awhile and getting going was not pretty considering I was on a steep section of the climb. When the dust settled, I had lost about 20 seconds.

I will remember the deafening cheers as I chased back to the group. It lifted my cycling to a new level. The cheering got me so excited I overdid it a bit and blew up as I reestablished contact with the breakaway. When I reached the next group, there was another split, and six of the 10 original break had already flown the coop. My race was for seventh; I placed a hard-fought eighth.

DAY THREE - Melon City.

This criterium is fairly straightforward, with two real comers and a nice little leg breaker hill every lap. The race started off fairly problem-free until the third lap. Good old Mordecai (I name my bikes!) decided things were a bit too smooth - off came my chain and into the frame it went. This time Old Mordecai would be permanently wounded. I had to drop out or find another bike. I decided to give it a go.

My first step was to find someone to track down a bike with the proper seat height. I found a VQ athlete and friend named Rich Smott to help me pull off the switch-a-roo. I yelled to Rich what I wanted, and in a matter of laps he had a 56 cm Trek 5500 (same bike as Mordecai) ready. One major problem - pedals. I have Shimano one-off pedals that were made for the Postal team only. There is not another pedal like it in the world except for my spare set at home and in the Postal team truck, which was probably cruising around Belgium as we raced. The pedals I requested were Look, which is the closest thing to what I was using. I could not pull up with any force, but at least the cleats fit into the pedals.

The bike was ready now and all I had to do was get out front far enough that I could stay in the pack while the switch was made. Somehow Rich and I pulled it off and I didn't miss a beat. Next lap, Mordecai was ready to rip with a new chain and some keen derailleur adjustments made by the fine Trek mechanic. We made the switch back to my bike and the race had eight more laps. To the disbelief of myself and friends, I came from 40 riders back with one lap to go to just get edged out for the win. I took second.

DAY FOUR - Rock Island.

This is the big daddy race of the weekend. It has more prize money than the other three put together. I've won this race three times, and in its 30-year history, no one has won it four times. The competition this week was the best it's ever been with more than 40 professionals and a host of great amateurs squads. I was nervous but anxious to have a problem-free race and give myself a chance to win. The race was ripping from the start and my teammate Kenny Labbe was giving everything he had for me. He kept all dangerous moves in check.

The race was drawing to a close and I found myself in great position. I felt a peace come over me with three laps to go. I mentally stepped out of the race for what seemed like five minutes and thought not about the crazy elbow-to elbow battle through 40 mph turns that was about to ensue but about my wife (continued on page 11) and baby who had driven up that morning to see me race. This is how I control my nerves and stay calm when the heat is on. That mental pause took all of two seconds and I was back to the battle. I was controlled and smooth.

On the final lap, I was in great position and came through the final turn with only one rider to pass. I accelerated with everything I had and won in front of 15,000 cheering fans. I let out a yell and raised my arms high above my head, giving the crowd a good look at my newly fixed pearly whites. The famous mountain-bike-collecting, trail stomping dentist, Dr.

Estes Boshes, had been waiting for me to smile all weekend. This was my time to take in the wonderful feeling of winning a big bike race. I rode around the course and took in every spectator, every holler, and as I approached the start finish on my cool down lap I was interested in seeing only two people. My wife and baby. They are the ones that make things real.

QCMarathon – September 22 – Need Volunteers

The Quad Cities Bicycle Club has been asked by the QC Marathon committee to help with the QC Marathon on Sunday, September 22nd. The route of the marathon covers both sides of the river.

Riders will be assigned a 3-4 mile section of the route. Riding a mountain or hybrid bike works best as you will be moving slowly watching for runners that may be getting into medical trouble. You would provide communication back to the police and medical personnel if you see someone in need of help. Your assignment will last approximately 1.5 - 2.0 hours. Depending upon your station along the course, your shift would start between 7AM and 11AM.

QCBC members will be given a T-shirt to wear that identifies them as part of the medical support team and a radio or cell phone upon which they can call for assistance. You will not be expected to render any type of medical assistance unless you are already certified.

If you can help out with this important QC Area sporting event, please contact Deb Mathias, at (309) 787-6547 or mathiasdebdean@mcleodusa.net

3rd Annual QC Triathlon

Saturday, June 15th

Eric Sarno, Race Director

The third annual Quad Cities Triathlon was a success. What a race! Both the men and women's field was very competitive. JJ Bailey (a CAT 1 cyclist) won the men's division beating one of America's top age group triathletes in Jeff Castro. JJ seemed to win the race on the bike but it was not easy...this year's men's field was the most competitive yet. In the women's race, Beverly Enslow found herself behind by a minute or two after the bike portion, but the former Bix champion, was able to make up the time during the run, thus capturing her third consecutive QCT title.

I would like to extend my sincere appreciation to the Quad Cities Bicycle club for helping both as a major sponsor and through members who volunteered their time. We had approximately 480 people register for this year's race, and we look to cap next years race at 500. Our philosophy has been safety first, so we have tried not to grow too fast, but to gradually increase the number of participants. The amazing support of our sponsors and that of the staff of West Lake Park and the Scott County Conservation Board has allowed the QCT to become one of the Midwest's premier Sprint Distance Triathlons in just 3 short years. Most importantly, the Quad Cities Triathlon does not happen without volunteers, so Thank You Volunteers!!!!

Proceeds from this year's race benefited the American Red Cross of the Quad Cities. We have been fortunate the last two years to have a small amount of money left over to apply to the following year's race. No one is happier about that than my wife Jennifer because when the QCT initially started, it was funded primarily with our Visa card. I am proud to say that the QCT is run completely on a volunteer basis, and that includes myself and the members of our race team: Jennifer Anderson-Sarno, John Punkiewicz, Kirby Winn, and Stephanie Cramer. We are passionate about putting on this race and we hope that it has shown for the past three years...see you on June 14th 2003!
